Submission Guidelines

Trafika Europe accepts submissions on a rolling basis of quality new fiction and poetry in English and English translation from across Council of Europe countries, for publication in our quarterly journal online. Work should be submitted by email to: editor@trafikaeurope.org, or to the above address.

We are happy to consider (a) whole short stories, (b) novel excerpts from approximately 10 pages up to chapter-length, and (c) selections of poetry (ideally 7-10 poems/pages). Submissions should be in Word or Word-compatible files, 12-point double-spaced. A covering letter with information about the work and author is helpful, including about the translator, rights, and original publication.

The work, if published in its original language/country, should ideally be not more than five years old from original publication date. It may or may not already be translated fully into English, and may or may not already have a contract for English-language book publication. For suitable works we are happy to facilitate translation where possible. To assess this we ask at least a token sample of the work in English translation, as well as description of any other converging measures of quality which may assist us in selection.

We strive to reply within two months. Simultaneous submissions (to other journals with the same work) is strongly discouraged.

Inclusion in our online journal automatically grants the further non-exclusive right to reprint the work in whole or part, if chosen, in Trafika Europe's annual print "best-of" collection and elsewhere. Trafika Europe is not-for-profit and considers all use as "non-commercial"; our print collection may be sold and works used for publicity and fundraising purposes. Universal rights remain with the original rights holder of the work for all other purposes. Trafika Europe retains no other rights.

Many thanks, and we look forward to hearing from you.
